Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Friday 05 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mainly dry and cloudy on Saturday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showers continuing but becoming confined to the southeast by dawn, the west will see a few clearer spells. Fresh easterly winds continuing around the coast. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Saturday:
A few showers around at first in the east but a lot of drier weather although likely to stay rather cloudy. Freshening easterly wind along the coast later. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
A mixture of bright spells and a few showers in the east, these turning wintry from Sunday. Feeling cold with brisk easterly winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.